

They're the Funniest Comics They Know!

February 3, 2005

Audience participation and nonstop hilarity abound in the Off the Cuff Improv Troupe's version of the hit television program Whose Line Is It Anyway? Driven by creative suggestions solicited from the peanut gallery, the skit show is the meat and potatoes of any improv aficionado's existence. The humor originates from the spontaneity of the comedians' responses to the tasks set forth; no commercials, no editing and no boundaries means that anything can, and most likely will, happen. Off the Cuff Improv will be performing at the Bristol Grill, 300 Middle St., Bristol. (860) 589-9118.

www.offthecuffimprov.com. $10 show only, $35 with dinner package. -A.B.

PHOTO COURTESY CUBED SQUARED

search

GO

browse the archives GO

more in this section

Now and Then

(02/03/05)

Beyond Vaginas

(02/03/05)

by Karen Bovard

Fantasy for Fantasy

(02/03/05)

by Andrew Bottomley

section archives »

in depth

One-Week Lease

(03/02/06)

Misery in Manchester

(02/23/06)

Lights Out!

(01/26/06)

Spoken Word archives

»

Theatre archives »

Become an EGG DONOR
$7500
compensation